Judge Stahr Orders That The Highlands Be Annexed To City

In a special session of Circuit Court here in Fulton Saturday morning, Judge Elvis Stahr ordered that the "Highlands area be annexed to the city of Fulton". The three-hour hearing climaxed a matter that began more than three years ago, when a mass meeting of residents turned down the annexation idea at that time, but growing sentiment has developed FOR the move ever since that time.

Last fall the City of Fulton sent a letter to every resident of the area, asking them to vote whether or not they favored annexation to the city. The vote at that time indicated that annexation was favorable, two-to-one. When the City indicated that it would file suit to annex the area because, on the basis of its tabulations, the majority favored annexation, the protesting faction engaged a lawyer, Dee McNeill, circulated another petition against the move and stated that a number of the original endorsers of the annexation move had changed their mind and were not opposed to it. Judge Stahr refused to admit the petition, declaring that the Court could not recognize anyone changing their minds on the matter.

Plans Are Outlined For Centennial At Community Meet; Committees Told

A mass meeting of Fulton citizens packed the downtown courtroom Tuesday evening, eager to learn about the plans for the Twin-Cities forthcoming Centennial celebration, scheduled for this summer. They listened attentively as a representative of the John B. Rogers Producing Company summarized the reasons for having the celebration, the method by which the event should become self-supporting, and then answered questions from the audience.

"The progress of the undertaking must proceed on a definite time-table," he said, "and the time-table for beginning all of the various activities will be given the chairmen concerned. It is right important for the continued enthusiasm of the event that some activities not start too soon, so please be patient."

The audience and the general public were advised that the program in its entirety—a gigantic undertaking involving hundreds of workers—would be "gradually unfolded" to the communities week by week, and the sincere cooperation of everyone was solicited to participate and enjoy the event.

It takes a lot of people to put on a big celebration such as Fulton and South Fulton will have for their Centennial July 18-24. In the Centennial headquarters is a huge chart with 53 boxes.

Two Seniors At Fulton High Reach Finals Of National Scholarship Contest

Two seniors at Fulton City High School have reached the finals of the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship Program and have been awarded Certificates of Merit, according to Principal J. M. Martin.

Charlie Huddleston and Kenneth Turner have received the Certificates, which attest to their high academic promise.

The seniors distinguished themselves by their high scores on the two college aptitude tests used in the National Merit Scholarship competition. About six-tenths of one per cent of the seniors in each state received the awards. A national total of 10,000 students were honored.

Over 478,000 students were tested in the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship competition which began last April. The test results have pared the competitors down to the 10,000 Finalists. Some 700 of the finalists will be named Merit Scholars this Spring. They, and the colleges they have chosen, will share in $3.5 million in Merit Scholarship funds offered by over eighty different organizations and individuals. The winners will be determined by the results of final judging now being conducted. The Merit Scholars will be announced about May 1, 1959.

The names of the Certificate of Merit winners are being sent to over 1,500 colleges, universities and other scholarship-granting agencies for consideration for thousands of other privately-financed scholarships offered outside of the Merit Scholarship Program.

Previous experience indicates that the Finalists will be offered some $2.5 million worth of fresh-

Jo's Note Book

I hated to miss by visit with you last week, but I left for an extended tour through the State early last week and couldn't write the column in time to get here by press time. I think some of you might be interested in my activities these past few weeks, so if you have time you might like to read about them.

As State Women's Campaign Chairman for the gubernatorial candidates Bert Combs and Wilson Wyatt I have been appearing in several of the "meet-the-team" rallies being held in the various districts over the State. The first one was held in Paducah and others have been held in Bowling Green, Somerset, Elizabethtown, Winchester, Ashland, Covington and Williamstown.

It surely must be a heartening sight to both Bert Combs and Wilson Wyatt and their supporters to know that at each of the rallies the candidates and the campaign chairmen and chairwomen have spoken to overflowing crowds. So large have been the crowds that public address systems have had to be set up in the courthouse corridors, since the courtrooms would not accommodate the crowds either standing or sitting.

Perhaps one of the most enthusiastic crowds encountered during the tour was at Frankfort when the Franklin County Combs-Wyatt headquarters were opened. The weather was one of winter's worst. It was cold as all get-out and raining like mad. But as far as the crowd was concerned it might have been a day in Spring.

The Frankfort meeting began with a motorcade of nearly 250 cars which drove into the city amidst sirens and horn-blowing. As we entered the city the streets were lined with well-wishers standing in the rain and when we got out of the cars and stood on the steps of the Farmer's Bank in Frankfort to speak to the audience, we could see more than 1200 people standing in the streets with the rain and the wind in. Water Valley, thence Westerly across Hickman County and the Northwest portion of Fulton to its confluence with the Mississippi North of Hickman.

The hearing will be held by the Fulton County Soil Conservation District Feb. 28 beginning at 1 p. m. at Cayce Grade School.

Ban On News To Hickman Courier Puts Bondurant In Bad Light; Judge And Editor Are Right, Wrong

Fulton County has come in for some extremely unfavorable news in the big city newspapers here lately. Its the kind of unsavory publicity that casts aspersions on the integrity of some very fine people and we wish the whole thing could have been avoided. And it could have been, too.

The story is that Ro Gardner, editor of the 100-year-old Hickman Courier is filing, or has filed suit, against Judge John C. Bondurant of the County Fiscal Court. Gardner's suit is a protest against Judge Bondurant because the judge has placed an "Iron Curtain," as Gardner calls it, on news from the Fulton County Court.

On the face of it, that places Judge Bondurant in an unenviable position and puts him in the light of being an unscrupulous public official who has something to hide from the public. That isn't true, as anybody who knows Judge Bondurant can tell you.

On the other hand Ro Gardner, a crusading, hard fighting, unafraid newspaper editor is entitled to get the news.

The whole unfortunate situation arose following publication of an editorial in the Hickman Courier which sarcastically criticized the court for releasing two prisoners for serving 14 days of a 30-day jail sentence. Gardner took sharp issue with the judge for releasing the two prisoners, particularly since the two prisoners were accused of beating up an elderly man a few days after their release.

Looking at the issues from all angles it can be seen that both Judge Bondurant and Ro Gardner are wrong. On the other hand both Judge Bondurant and Ro Gardner are right.

Let's look at Judge Bondurant's side. It is no secret that Gardner has taken a dim view of the activities and modus operandi of Fulton County Courts, county officials, juries and judges for a mighty long time. His vitriolic pen has castigated court procedures, the decision of juries and the administration of county offices. He has made no bones about the fact that he believes Kentucky court procedure is antiquated and undignified.

Gardner's criticism of the court has created a dangerously demoralizing effect on the people who administer the court, but more than that, it has tended to gradually create a total disrespect for the dignity and integrity of the court. That integrity means a lot to Judge Bondurant and to the other judges in Fulton County and there is no doubt that Gardner's constant needling, villification and criticism has caused great concern in the minds and hearts of these men. Ro Gardner will admit that Judge Bondurant is an honest, sincere and hard working man. It is doubtful that Ro Gardner would say an unkind word about the moral, personal character of Judge Bondurant. It is mysterious then, why Gardner, does not reconcile the Judge's personal character and his judicial character and permit the Judge to commit a human error, if it was an error.

On the Gardner side of the ledger it can be said that his news columns can hardly be accused of reporting erroneous statements. The suit, if filed, will bear that out. If Gardner in his editorial columns, wants to call the county jail a motel that is his prerogative under his constitutional right of freedom of the press. Sometimes this right is abused in editorial columns, but the right is there just the same. If Judge Bondurant thinks it is an error to call the jail a motel, then its one man's opinion against the other. But Gardner's criticism has been in his editorial columns, not in his news column, and in that respect Judge Bondurant was in error to close the books of the county to the editor of the Hickman Courier.

We feel that Judge Bondurant has as much right to protect the integrity of his court as Gardner has to protest the people's right to know. But the judge's protection must not come in barring anyone from the records; it should come in the form of prosecution in court, if he has a case.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

But Everybody Is Going Steady!

By Francis Dietz, feature writer
"The Michigan Catholic"

There can be no sadder spectacle than the young girl who has fallen in love with the wrong person; or with the right person at the wrong time. For her own happiness it's important that Miss Earlyteen be guided away from unwise emotional involvements until her maturity has developed to enable her to exercise a proper control over the promptings of her heart.

EMOTION, powerful emotion, she will likely experience rather early in life; control comes later with age and experience. Her is the most telling argument against steady dating in the early teens.

By its very nature steady dating with one person leads to intense emotional attachment. It sets in motion strong currents of feeling that the individual simply cannot effectively cope with and which drive her on into the most lamentable and long regretted behavior. Our young people want to be good; they are good. But all too often we allow—infact, encourage, them—to attempt emotional burdens that their young shoulders were never meant to bear.

If we are not ready to let our 15-year-old daughter marry, then it's cruel to let her fall in love. Love and marriage go together. We shouldn't encourage the one until we are ready to sanction the other.

WOMEN would doubt the sanity of a housewife who would bake a cake on Monday for a party she was planning for the following Saturday. Is any better sense displayed when we allow a 16-year-old to fall in love with a boy she couldn't hope to marry for several years to come? What folly to imagine that young love, with all its wild impetuosity, can be kept for years within bounds as the two young people await a favorable time for marriage.

Steady dating, of course, is not to be confused with social dating. Dating is social when a young girl associates with a number of boys so as to have a basis of comparison for the day when she chooses her life's partner. Recreational and lacking in serious intent, social dating does not foster a love relationship between two individuals but helps the couple fulfill more successfully the task of selecting their future spouse.

PARENTS would end at once a dating situation between their 15 or 16-year-old daughter and a married man, regardless of the tears, tantrums, or scene that might follow. If unwise steady dating continues, it's because the parents of such youngsters have not felt any urgent need to bring it to an end. Frequently parents discover too late they have ruined their daughter's chance for happiness.

Psychiatrists, doctors, social workers, judges in juvenile and domestic relations courts—in fact, all who work with youth—are of one mind with the church in this matter. Steady dating is a prelude to marriage; it's too serious a thing to be indulged in by the immature. For the happiness of everyone involved, social, not steady, dating should be the guiding rule for teenagers.

Kentucky Windage

By P. W.

This beard-growing business for the coming twin-Cities celebration is off to a flying start even before the thing is officially announced as having begun.

Most of the city police force and the fire department crew are sporting young growths and a few already trimming 'em up for something fancy. Noticed Spud Edwards Saturday with a well-trimmed set of chin whiskers that already looks like the Count of Monte Cristo. Monday morning of this week Nubbin Bizzle at the Fulton Theatre looked like he had just returned from Castro's guerillas in Cuba.

Cheer up, ladies—the first two or three weeks of this whiskers-growing business are the worst for looks. After that they look all right but as far as their wearers are concerned, itch like the mischief.

Hard an interesting conversation last weekend with a local small manufacturer who recently moved his plant from a northern

City to Fulton. "It's a big decision to make, but we're very happy that we made it and got out of the big city," he told us, adding that he believed any number of others would like to do the same thing but are afraid to make the move.

Why they are afraid to make it, he couldn't figure out... just a hesitation to climb out of a well-worn path, probably. Then on Monday morning we read where the "smog" problem of metropolitan areas is increasing yearly to the point that it may become a major contamination menace. Solution? The story stated that the only solution is to prohibit any more new industry in the affected zones, which again will drive more young and energetic industry away from the cities and down to such nice places as Fulton, Kentucky. We have plenty of water, plenty of gas, plenty of transportation, plenty of recreation, plenty of space, plenty of manpower... and only one smoke-stack in town.

a big trial coming up. They had subpoenaed several from here (Hickman) for the jury. I was one of them. So, I was there, Monday morning at the court house.

I was excused from the jury as I had an opinion. They accepted the others, so I was left alone. Couldn't stand that, so I caught a train and went down to Jackson, Tenn. I knew several there.

Left Jackson that afternoon, arriving in Fulton near 5 o'clock. I went first thing to the court house. No one was outside and as I opened the door I could hear a lawyer talking, so I knew court was going, so I decided to wait. When I went out on the front steps, I noticed a large wagon had driven up, full of watermelons, not the pumpkin size we have today, but 50 to 75 pound size.

I bought the load, about 50 to 75. I think, I paid about $30.00 for the load. Had the men unload them on each side of the walk, then I waited. When court adjourned, they all tried coming out at once, two or three hundred, and as they would pass me, I would say, friend have a watermelon, all mine. But not a melon would they take. Most gave me a silly grin, said, "Thank you," but none took a melon.

At last, the last man came out. He was the deputy sheriff. I knew him well. He says, "Come on Henry, let's go eat supper." I told him they were my melons. Don't think he believed me, but he said, "Let's get one then." I say, "O. K.," so we each got a melon, which we carried with us to the restaurant. After supper, I went to the hotel, where I met the other boys from home. So the melons were forgot, but the next morning after breakfast, I thought of them again. So I go up to the court house early and when I got there, there was not one melon in sight. During the night every one of my melons had disappeared. So, I thought to myself, some of these Fulton folks are funny people. Don't believe in receiving, they believe in taking. For several days after my return home I paid for my fun. At any hour during the night the telephone would ring and on answering a voice would say, "Hello, Henry, have you got any more watermelons to give away?"

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Westpheling: Here is my check for the News. I enjoy it very much. I am looking forward to reading what you will have to say about the old South Fulton school. I attended school there when the Millam Bros. (Don and Van) were "Heads" of it. I imagine there are lots of the old students around Fulton yet—but maybe they wouldn't want to "fess up" to their ages.

Many good wishes to you.

If you have any old pictures of Fulton, old newspapers or documents of interest, which could be used in the Centennial Edition of the Fulton County News, please contact the News Office by calling 470, or by taking them to the first time you are in town.

Work was begun Thursday on the Fulton County News' big historical edition, to be published in connection with the Centennial celebration in July. Its really going to be a job, but then all things worthwhile always take a lot of hard work.

Don't forget, the Fulton County News needs those old pictures, newspapers and documents as soon as possible.

In digging up material for our Centennial Edition we have run across some interesting facts about our town which haven't been recorded in news stories before. Our special edition will be the most complete record of the history of Fulton and South Fulton ever published.

Everyone is writing about Abraham Lincoln these days. When I was quite young, Mother's preacher-cousin and his artist-wife, paid us a visit. The two things I remember most about that visit was that the pretty lady painted each of us a beautiful picture and that someone said she was a relative of Abraham Lincoln. Her mother, or grandmother, had been a first cousin of Abe.

From that day on, I remember, I would tell kids in school, when the subject of the great President was mentioned, that I was related to him. Of course, they never did believe me, and of course, it wasn't actually true—the part that he was a relative of mine. (Of course, you might say he was by marriage.) Anyway, I always felt as if he were an ancestor of mine, and when I went to Washington, D. C. to work in 1943, I paid a visit to the Ford Theatre, where Lincoln was shot (now a museum) and to the house across the street, where he died.

At the theatre, while I was looking at the old newspaper accounts of his assassination, the aged guard came over for a chat. And during our conversation, I said again, "I am a descendant of Lincoln's." The old man was amazed and said, "You know, young lady, I have been working here for many years now, and you are only the second person who has said they were related to Lincoln." Then, it was my turn to be amazed!

"Strange Tale of a Will" is the title of an article appearing in the February 16 issue of News-week magazine.

The story, on page 30 of the national magazine, relates the story of the will and purported codicil of the late Ed Gardner, millionaire Mayfield banker who died last June.

The annual Kennel banquet will be held at the Park Terrace Restaurant on Feb. 21 at 6:30 p. m. Speakers will be Wayne Tansil, Journalism professor at UTMB, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Gabriel, editor of the Volette, UTMB school paper.

The school citizenship awards will be presented by J. M. Martin, Fulton High School principal. Those who will attend will be members of the Kennel staff, members of Quill and Scroll, the faculty at Fulton High and special guests.

Some of you heard Ken Turner on the Livewire radio program the other morning threatening to get the police after me for "stealing his heater." Well, I have you know that while I was out for coffee he came to the News office and stole the heater from me. But, the last laugh was on Ken: As he proudly brought the heater into the radio station—in front of me—Mary Nelle informs him that the heater is hers and that she's taking it to the drug store. So,

Ike's Message To Scouts Hold

President Eisenhower Thursday told 4,780,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America that they "play an important part in the life of the national community."

He declared that "their high standards of personal character and citizenship help to keep our country strong."

His message for Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, was released by Jack D. Fox, Scout Executive of the Four Rivers Council, Boy Scouts of America, who received a copy from Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive.

The President's message follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON
Please give my greetings to the Boy Scouts of America joined in the observance of the 49th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement. With a great membership of many millions, the Boy Scouts play an important part in the life of the national community. Their high standards of personal character and citizenship help to keep our country strong.

It is a pleasure to send my best wishes for another exciting year of Scouting—and my congratulations to the adult leaders who support this fine movement.
(Signed)
DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER
Mr. Eisenhower, Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America and member of its National Executive Board since 1948, will greet twelve Eagle Scout Explorers in the White House next Wednesday (Feb. 11) at 11:45 a. m. In making their "Report to the Nation" the Scouts will tell what the members achieved in the 1958 Safety Good Turn suggested by President Eisenhower.

Jailer Suffers Hand Injury

Earl Tibbs, Fulton County Jailor, severely cut his left hand recently and was rushed to Dr. White's Clinic where he had four stitches taken.

The accident occurred after Tibbs pulled into the driveway, noticed a tree branch in his way and tried to cut it down with a knife.

I wasn't the only one who ended up with no heater. Ken lost out, too!

My cousin, Edward Bugg, and several others from Clinton were in St. Louis the night of the tornado, and according to his wife, Lougene, the strong winds blew the back window out of his car. None of the men were injured, though. Neither were any of our relatives living there, we were glad to learn.

Mary Nelle has received a most unusual and interesting gift from Mary Davis Weeks Dicken. It is a bracelet made up of many coins from foreign countries. Mary Davis collected the coins from the countries she and her husband, John, visited in during the past year, while John was station in Germany. The Dickens are here now on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weeks.

Beards, beards! Everywhere I turn I see more male faces with new beards. Now, Daddy informs me he's planning to start a goatee and a long mustache, waxed at the ends. And to top it off, he's going to get a bright red shirt to wear with his white cowboy hat. Won't he look cute?

According to a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hyland from their daughter, Jean, one of her students recently came to school in a bonoe. Jean is teaching at Denver, Ind., near Peru, where the floods have been so bad lately.

Happy birthday, to Mrs. G. W. Dimmitt, mother of Mrs. Hugh Pigue of Fourth Street, who celebrated her "birthday" Tuesday. Another daughter of Mrs. Dimmitt from Colorado is here visiting her. On her birthday, we understand, Mrs. Dimmitt received many cards, including ones from the members of the Art Department of the Woman's Club.

W. Z. Carter Seeks State School Office

W. Z. Carter, Superintendent of Schools at Murray and former Grand Master of the Masonic Order of Kentucky, announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for state school superintendent subject to the primary election May 26.

Superintendent Carter, 59, who has served as head of the Murray schools for the past fourteen years, led the drive which has moved this system from rank 70 in salaries in the state to rank 26. The former classroom teacher and principal was instrumental in the construction of two new elementary schools in Murray as well as a new Arts Building.

Mr. Carter is a member of the First Christian Church of Murray where he has served as Elder for the past twenty years and is teacher of the Men's Bible Class. He was District Governor of Lions International in 1954-55 and is now International Counselor. He has served as president of the First District Education Association and president of the Alumni Association of Murray State College from which he was graduated in 1929. He received his Master's degree in Public School Administration from the University of Chicago in 1932. He is a veteran and is a member of the Southern School Commission of Schools and Colleges.

Married to the former Martha Stevenson of Ballard County, Mr. Carter has two children, Mrs. Johnny Reagan of Murray, and John Mack Carter, editor of American Home Magazine, of New York City.

Because Mr. Carter thinks the office of state school superintendent is of paramount interest to every parent and prospective parent in Kentucky, he states that he expects to run an independent race—"I ask the people of Kentucky to examine my record as Murray Superintendent, as well as my qualifications for this office before voting May 26. I have many close friends who are supporting both Lieut. Governor Harry Lee Waterfield and Bert Combs." He also stated that he "can work with either of these men for better schools as state school superintendent if the people select me."

Fulton Wins Over Hickman

Roger Pigue poured in 31 points to lead the Fulton Bulldogs to a top-sided 70-46 victory over the Fulton County Pilots at Hickman Friday night.

Fulton City jumped into a 14-10 first quarter advantage and was never headed. The Bulldogs led 35-22 at halftime and increased the margin to 51-33 after three stanzas to put the game on ice.

Pigue, in addition to his sharp-shooting, played a standout game under the boards for the winners.

Jim Tipton topped scorers for Fulton County with 13 markers. Fulton City ..... 14 35 51 70 Fulton County .. 10 22 33 46

Teen Town To Be Organized

The newly organized Explorer Scout Troop of the Boy Scouts has adopted as its project for the year the formation of a Teen Town.

The project will be under the supervision of Thomas Exum and Billy Johnson and will be located on the third floor of the City Hall. This space has been rented from the City of Fulton.

Funds and materials to redecorate and buy equipment are badly needed and anyone interesting in donating to this worthy project for the youth of our city is asked to contact George Carter at the Main Street Barber Shop or the Scout Leaders, Thomas Exum or Billy Johnson.

KEEPING THE FARM HOME

Most everyone enjoys a beautiful home with surroundings that are not only enjoyable to the eye, but at the same time present a since of warm welcome at all seasons of the year.

One of the best ways to know such a place when you pass or enter is to see beautiful landscaping with shrubs properly placed and kept in such a way that their very appearance gives you a friendly, hello.

This season of the year is the time to begin caring for your shrubs and also for planting and placing any that you might want to move from their present location.

The lack of proper pruning of landscape shrubs causes loss of many of them. There are also some right and wrong methods of pruning. Certain shrubs require special care, whereas others need a different type of treatment.

Spirea, forsythia and other spring flowering shrubs should be pruned immediately after flowering. If it is done during the winter, the branches which hold flowers in the spring will be destroyed. Shrubs such as crape myrtle, vitex and white hydrangea will put on new wood in the spring, and bloom in the summer, this makes winter pruning permissible.

To make evergreens attractive for next winter, prune just before growth starts in the spring. Usually March and April are good months for this job. Some have already pruned their evergreens which is all right.

Bushy branches near the center of camellia plants often harbor scale insects. These insects are often overlooked, and are very destructive. Low hanging branches may also cause a scale problem, as well as interfering with sanitary measures necessary to control camellia flower blight. For this reason it is necessary to thin the lower branches.

In pruning nandinas, select the

A bill of $533.96 for natural gas heating of the classroom and gym at the new Fulton County High School was presented. Heating of the cafeteria and agricultural workshop was not included. A bill of $568.50 for heating of the classroom and gym was presented the month before.

Mrs. Hatfield Is Heart Sunday Chairman

Serving as Fulton County Heart Sunday chairman in the 1959 Heart Fund Drive now in progress is Mrs. Gene Hatfield, Country Club Lane, Fulton. Her appointment has been announced by Walter H. Sebastian, State campaign chairman, of Lexington.

The Heart Sunday collection will be conducted on February 22 and the general drive will continue through the month of February.

Though not setting a specific goal for 1959, the Kentucky Heart Association expects to raise at least $325,000 in this Heart Fund Drive. Approximately $317,000 was collected in the 1958 campaign.

Mr. Sebastian announced that tallest canes and remove them at ground level.

It is just as important to keep the shrubs and yard clean and free of weeds as it is to cut fence rows. Neither returns much cash, but it makes your property more valuable.

Beauchamp Files As Candidate

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Ever think what a small old world this really is. No matter how far you travel, to whatever corner of the globe you might go, somebody, somewhere knows somebody you know. Last summer we took the children to St. Louis to hear Hansel and Gretel at the Municipal Opera there. On our way we met two weary bicyclers and stopped the car to visit with them and to give them a cold drink.

We learned that they were two prominent professional men from Turin, Italy who were travelling the world on bicycles. After talking with them for awhile and giving them our name and address we told them goodbye and hoped to someday read the book they were writing.

This week came a card from the travelers. They had arrived back home in their native land and said they had completed the tour. Said they: "If you're ever in Italy please come see us." Someday we intend to do just that.

Then we were waiting for the doorman at a Memphis hotel to bring our car and the gent standing near the door noted our Kentucky license plate. The conversation with him revealed that he was leaving the convention that he was attending to come to Fulton to call on Richard Myatt at Colp Wholesale. When we told him that we had just seen Sidney Rose, a former Fultonian, in the lobby he said: "Good, if I can talk to Sidney I won't have to drive to Fulton." We scouted around and found Sidney and that was our good deed for the day.

The whole town is taking about the new bank that will open soon in Fulton County. It will be the type of bank that will be a novelty to the area and most of us are anxiously awaiting its opening. You watch for the announcement date.

Saw Mary Wood down-town last week with the biggest grin on her face we ever saw. She was being let out of a car by a most handsome young man and when we asked about the escort and the grin we were happy too. Mary's fine son, Delbert, is now going to school in Memphis and that makes coming home on week-ends a more probable and more frequent occurrence. Delbert has been in far away Florida for several months.

Mary Davis and John Dicken took off for St. Louis this week in that out-of-this-world foreign car that they brought back from overseas. Its the slickest, and smallest little ole car we ever saw and what's more its one of those jobs that runs 35 miles on a gallon of gas. Pity the poor oil companies when this country produces those rolling midgets on a large scale.

The St. Edward's Catholic Church had a very delightful and very enjoyable parish dinner at the Woman's Club last Sunday night. The church has several new families in the congregation and the dinner was a very nice way for the new folks to meet the other members of the church. Father Edward Tarrant showed slides of his trip to Europe, which he took last summer. And here's a little tip to folks who want a good program for their club meeting... Father Tarrant makes a completely fascinating travel guide.

Fulton turned out en masse to see this year's presentation of "Campus Lights" which was presented at Murray College last week-end. Nancy Adams was the female star of the show and folks say she did her usual outstanding job of entertaining. We missed the show. We arrived at Paris, Tenn from Louisville on Friday night and after being deposited at home for a much needed rest, Paul and the children took off for Murray with no spare time to make the curtain. They made it.

Fultonians probably will never realize the tremendous publicity we received as a result of Nancy's appearance on the Godfrey Show. Hardly a day goes by in my travels but that several people say... "Fulton, Ky. ... oh, that's the banana capital of the world." Sure, we say and add: "And soon we'll be the seed capital of the world." And welcome to Fulton all you nice Perry-Morse families.

Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards of Jackson will be in Fulton Friday evening.

Mrs. J. N. Wooten, Bill Holland, Leonard Duke and Vernon McAlister shared the honors at a delightful surprise birthday dinner Sunday at noon at the Wooten home on Valley street.

SHERRY PUCKETT is the 16-months-old daughter of T/Sgt. and Mrs. Russell H. Puckett. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Puckett of Dukedom. Sgt. and Mrs. Puckett are the proud parents of a six pound, 13 ounce baby boy, also, born Feb. 4, 1959, at the Boston Lying In Hospital, Boston, Mass. The baby has been named Russell Edward. T/Sgt. is with the Air Force ROTC at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass.

Rev. Charles G. Roe as guest speaker. All Auxiliary members and their families were invited to attend.

The Drama and Literature Department of the Woman's Club met Tuesday night at 7:30 at the club home. Mrs. Charles Walker was leader for the program and presented her mother, Mrs. S. J. Basham, who reviewed the book, "The Man Nobody Knows" by Bruce Barton.

A miscellaneous shower was held in the American Legion Hall Monday night, Feb. 9, for Miss Iola Stroud and Leon Rice, who were married on Feb. 14.

Mrs. Clyde Williams, Jr. presented the annual Founder's Day program at the February meeting of the Terry-Norman P-TA Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of the meeting a Valentine tea was enjoyed.

Mrs. Martha Putnam won the high score at bridge during the afternoon at Ladies Day Tuesday at the Fulton Country Club. Mrs. Ann Wiley won second high and Mrs. Carolyn Hale, bridge-bingo. Following the weekly luncheon, games of bridge and golf were played during the afternoon.

The Garden Department of the Woman's Club met Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the club home. An interesting program was presented by Mrs. P. F. King, leader. Mrs. Robert Holland, Kentucky Utilities Home Service Demonstrator, was a special guest and showed a sound film on "Roses." Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. E. Fall, Sr., Mrs. Sam Winston, Mrs. Will Craddock, Mrs. Leland Jewell and Mrs. J. A. Norment.

The South Fulton P-TA held its Founder's Day program Thursday in the Home Ec. room. Mrs. R. L. Harris, Founder's Day chairman, had charge of the program and presented Mrs. J. H. Patterson, Jr., who gave an excellent review of Jesse Stuart's autobiography, "The Thread That Runs So True".

Tea was served the guests upon arrival. A nominating committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Gene Dowdy, Mrs. Roper Fields and Mrs. Eugene Bard.

Mrs. Hendon Wright and Mrs. Paul Westpheling were in Memphis Monday.

Edmund Khourie spent Saturday in Cairo, Ill., visiting his sister Virginia.

Mrs. Edith Day McAmis returned home Sunday after spending three weeks in Port Huron, Mich., attending the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Gardner. Mrs. Gardner underwent heart surgery recently and is doing fine now.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling and children attended Campus Lights at Murray Friday evening. Jerry Coates and a friend from Martin attended Campus Lights at Murray Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob White have returned home after a vacation trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Mrs. Charles Browder of the Country Club Courts was hostess recently at a Coffee given in the home of Harold Riggs, who will soon be making her home in Finley, Ohio.

Miss Sara Glenn Lane

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Lane of Morehead, formerly of Fulton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Glenn, to Lt. Ernst Volgenau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer P. Volgenau of Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Lane, a graduate of Breckinridge Centre College and was graduated from Morehead State College. For the past two years she has been teaching in Xenia, Ohio.

Lt. Volgenau graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., and is now studying for his Master of Science at the Air Force Institute of Technology in Dayton, O. Following his graduation in March, he will be assigned to the Air Force Ballistic Missiles Division at Ingleside, Calif.

outlined with additional pearl scallops. She wore cultered pearl earrings and a necklace of a single pearl suspended from a dainty silver chain. Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by velvet adiantum and tulle which was placed on a satin covered Bible. The flowers were showered with satin ribbons.

Mrs. Jack Austin, the bride's sister-in-law, was the matron of honor. She wore an afternoon frock of brilliant red velvet designed with deep portrait neckline and bracelet sleeves. The widely flared skirt was designed along harem lines. A self bow at the low waistline was caught with a handsome rhinestone pin. Her velvet clip-hat was twined with seed pearls. Her pearl jewelry she carried a bouquet of white was a gift of the bride. She carried a bouquet of white carnations placed on a red satin heart.

Little Miss Ann Austin, niece of the bride, was an adorable flower girl in her red velvet frock with tiny lace collar. She carried a miniature nosegay of white carnations nestled in red satin.

Harry Burton served his son as best man. Richard Williams was the acolyte.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Austin wore a dress of printed wool jersey in ivory and amethyst. The dress had a deep, square neckline and short sleeves. A wide flared collar caught with self bows was featured on the brief jacket. She wore a shell hat of white feathers and white gloves. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Burton, mother of the groom, chose a softly tailored frock of black corded with a small orange design. Her hat was beige and her accessories were black. She also had a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception to which a large number of friends had been invited. The bride's table was draped in an elaborate cutwork cloth. Tall, white tapered burned in silver holders. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. H. C. Sams, Sr., Mrs. C. P. Pruett, Mrs. Billy Slayden, and Mrs. Curtis Hancock. Mrs. Charles Scholes, sister of the groom, was at the register. Miss Chandler of Paducah poured tea.

Late in the afternoon, the young couple left for a short wedding trip after which they will make their home at 3667 Cleveland, St. Louis, Missouri. For traveling Mrs. Burton wore a dress of royal blue wool designed in a modified shirt waist style with a matching leather belt. Her matching velour hat had a bow at the back caught with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore a gray mouton jacket. She also wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Miss Jane Austin Becomes Bride Of Joe Pat Burton On Feb. 14th

By Agatha Voelpel

The lovely, country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wales Austin was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Saturday afternoon, the fourteenth of February, nineteen hundred and fifty-nine at two-thirty o'clock when their daughter, Jane, became the bride of Joe Pat Burton. The impressive double-ring service was performed by Brother Oliver Cunningham, minister of the Central Church of Christ, and was witnessed by members of the immediate families and a very few close friends. Mr. Burton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burton of Tri City, Kentucky.

The young bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely, ballerina length wedding dress of Chantilly lace made over taffeta and net. The sabrina neckline featured a scalloped detail of the lace appliqued to tulle with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The fitted sleeves extended to points over her hands and were closed with tiny covered buttons. The voluminous skirt was of ruffled net covered with a net overskirt. Gathered lace panels fell over the net skirts in redingote fashion. Her shoulder length illusion fell from a lace shell bordered with pearls and

Icy Roads Keep Members Home

Icy roads were responsible for Fulton County Farm Bureau members not attending the 1959 kick off drive Feb. 6 at Kentucky Dam Village. Mrs. C. N. Holland said seven Fulton Countians made reservations but had her cancel them at the last minute because of the weather.

Farm Bureau directors, officers and interested members from 22 counties were expected to attend the annual affair.

The Combs-Wyatt report was released a short time after the Chandler-Waterfield administration had revealed a delay in the delivery of pay checks to other state workers. Not enough money in the fund, was the administration's explanation.

A short time later three more political agents were put on the payroll at $8300 a year.

Boys' District Tourney Opens At Martin Feb. 23

Martin — The Boys' District tournament will get underway at Martin Monday night, February 23, at the local gym. The Martin Panthers, winners of 24 of 26 regular-season games, are top choices to take the title and advance into regional play in their quest for a trip to the state.

The Panthers are in top bracket and will play their first game Wednesday night when they meet the winner of the South Fulton-Dresden game which opens the tourney on Monday. South Fulton is responsible for one of the two defeats suffered by the Panthers and so one of the best games of the tourney will occur early in the week. Dresden is also tough and could upset the dope and South Fulton.

In the bottom bracket the Union City Tornado, winner of 16 of 19 games and only other team with a win over Martin, is one of two top choices, the other being strong Obion.

This year's tourney should be one of the best in many years as these teams, along with several others, boast strong records and with a few breaks could go all the way.

In each of the past two years the Panthers have met up with a suddenly "Hot" team, which has knocked them out of state play. Two years ago it was Kenton and last year Union City. This year, the Panthers will be out to take not only the title but to avenge those upsets as well.

The pairings:
Monday, Feb. 23—South Fulton vs. Dresden and Woodland Mills vs. Troy;
Tuesday, Feb. 24—Rives vs. Dixie and Hornbeak vs. Kenton;
Wednesday, Feb. 25—Martin vs. Dresden-South Fulton winner and Palmersville vs. Troy-Woodland Mills winner;

Thursday, Feb. 26—Union City vs. Rives-Dixie winner and Obion vs. Hornbeak-Kenton winner. Semifinals will be played Friday, February 27, and consolation and finals Saturday, February 28.

Plitt Elevated President Of ABC Films, Inc.

Henry G. Plitt, president of the Paramount Gulf Theatres and Tenarken Theatre circuits, with which the Fulton Theatre in this city is affiliated, has been elevated to the position of president of ABC Films Inc. He is expected to leave for New York, where he will make his headquarters, in the near future.

Lewis Bizzie, manager of the Fulton Theatre here, said he has received a letter from Plitt in which Plitt thanked him, along with the other managers in the Paramount Gulf and Tenarken circuit, for his untiring efforts in behalf of the motion picture industry. The showmanship exhibited by Bizzie, Plitt wrote, is responsible for both the healthy state of the industry and for Plitt's new assignment.

ABC Films Inc., which along with Paramount Gulf and Tenarken, is a subsidiary of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc., produces and distributes product seen by television viewers throughout the world. Principal offices are in all major cities in this country as well as in leading markets abroad.

Plitt, a lawyer, was one of the nation's most decorated veterans of World War II. The first Allied soldier to parachute into occupied France prior to D-Day, Plitt joined AB-PT shortly after the close of hostilities and served with several other theatre circuits associated with AB-PT before coming to Paramount Gulf.

While in New Orleans, Plitt distinguished himself for his untiring efforts in behalf of many civic endeavors, among which his labors in behalf of the cerebral palsied will be long remembered. Leonard H. Goldenson, president of AB-PT, said, in announcing Plitt's new post, that he was confident the same aggressive, dynamic showmanship which made him one of America's leading exhibitors would characterize his endeavors in his new office. Plitt's successor will be announced shortly.

Changes In Social Security Laws

According to Charles M. Whitaker, Manager, Social Security Office in Paducah, there have been changes in the Social Security Laws that have affected many people who have filed a claim for disability insurance benefits and have been denied monthly benefits because they did not have enough work under Social Security. Prior to September 1958, a person must have worked 1 1/2 years out of the 3 years before the date of disability and also 5 years out of 10 years before becoming disabled.

Now there is only one work requirement to be met. A person who has worked 5 years out of the 10 years before becoming disabled should inquire about benefits. For example, a person who becomes disabled in February 1959, must have worked 5 years under Social Security since February 1949. The work does not have to be regular but must be within the 10 years before the date of disability. Many people also find it difficult to establish their exact date of disability. This can be done by medical records, personal knowledge and sometimes by employment records. It is important that a person be able to establish the month and year they became permanently and totally disabled.

Whitaker emphasized that any person who has been denied benefits because he did not meet both the work requirements should contact the social security office.

Martin And Hornbeak Win

ENROLLMENTS AT UK

Enrollments at the University of Kentucky and five state-supported colleges in the Commonwealth have risen 41 percent in the past three years and are expected to grow another 14 percent by the fall of 1959.

Whitaker emphasized that any person who has been denied benefits because he did not meet both the work requirements should contact the social security office.

Mrs. Needham is a graduate of the Bowling Green, Kentucky College of Commerce. Mr. Needham is a Methodist and Mrs. Needham is a member of the Church of Christ.

Mr. LeMaster and his wife, Jean, came to Fulton in June of 1958, and they too, have made many friends and have established themselves with the better interests of the community. They are both members of, and active in, the First Baptist Church, of Fulton.

I feel that The Twin-Cities are extremely fortunate in having these two fine couples to serve them in their hour of need.

I will continue in an active capacity in all phases of the work that I am physically able to do. The business will continue to operate as the Hornbeak Funeral Home, with James Needham and Frank LeMaster as Co-owners.

Former Fulton Girl Opens On Broadway; Listed As Co-Author

By RHEA TALLY

New York—Ruth Ford had two thrills of a lifetime recently. One was long-awaited, the other unexpected. She opened on Broadway in a play which a Nobel Prize-winning friend had written especially for her: "Requiem for a Nun" by William Faulkner.

The unexpected thrill was to see her name listed as a co-author along with the great Faulkner's; Ruth said, yes, she had given him some suggestions, but nothing that would qualify her for co-billing. Yet that was Faulkner's gift to her.

The critics admired Ruth's acting and praised the play, although giving it great tolerance for its unorthodox nature because, as the Times said, "Mr. Faulkner listens to a distant drum."

Ruth plays the role of Temple Drake, one of the most discussed characters in modern literature because hers were the lurid adventures described in Faulkner's early novel, "Sanctuary." Her husband, the well-known actor Zachary Scott, plays a character who appears in many of Faulkner's works, the idealistic lawyer, Gavin Stevens.

It was after a performance of "Requiem for a Nun" in New Haven, during the play's out-of-town tryout runs, that I talked with Ruth about it; not for the first time.

We used to meet at parties at the antique-furnished apartment of Peter Lindamood, who also comes from Columbus, Miss., and for the past nine years a topic of conversation has been, "When will 'Requiem' get on Broadway?"

She Went Along With It. One difficulty in getting this show onto a New York stage, says Ruth, was that she went along with it. Faulkner made it clear that his old friend must play the lead, and producers look for "big names," something that Ruth has never acquired despite her years of critically-admired acting.

Personally Ruth is very popular in the social-literary-theatrical set of New York. A New York writer once wrote in praise of the way she handled Dylan Thomas at a party during the late Welsh poet's last tour of America, when his behavior would try the patience of any lady.

She has had several Broadway leads, and was Ophelia in a production of "Hamlet" staged in the courtyard of the castle in Elsinore, Denmark, where the historical Hamlet actually lived.

But until now she has been, more or less, a prophet without honor in her own country. England even gave her a chance to enact this role last year, after 14 European countries had done the play with other actresses, but Faulkner did not see her do it. He had seen the play only in Athens, in Greek.

Ruth is the daughter of the late Charles Lloyd Ford, who managed a hotel in Columbus, and whose father and four brothers also were in the hotel business.

One hotel which they managed was the Usona in Fulton, Ky. Ruth has a brother, Charles Henry Ford, author of a book of poems, "Sleep in a Nest of Flame."

The family lived in various parts of the South during Ruth's childhood, so she thought of no town especially as "home."

Ole Miss Graduate. Oxford, Miss., is the Southern town that means most in Ruth's life, for there she attended the University of Mississippi, taking an M. A. in philosophy after finishing her B. A. requirements. There, in Miss Ellie Somerville's tea room, she met Faulkner.

The other most momentous meeting in Ruth's life, with her husband Zachary Scott, took place in the late 1940s in Hollywood, when both were bit players at Warner Brothers. That was when Zachary started on the path of success that led, in a few years, to his being a well-known movie star. Ruth, who wasn't so lucky, didn't see him for several years. About 1950, when Ruth was on Broadway, they met again, and they were married in July, 1952.

Ruth's first husband was a song-writer, Peter Van Eyck, by whom she has a daughter, Shelley Van Eyck, who is now 17.

Seeing Ruth backstage at the Shubert Theatre in New Haven, I thought vaguely that something was different, but I didn't know what. Then I read a newspaper story that called her "dark-haired" and realized that she has become a brunet for Temple Drake. She was a brunet in the old ways in Mississippi, too, but in the intervening years has been a brown-eyed blond.

Her costumes for "Requiem for a Nun" are somber, too: a kimono-type dressing gown with scarlet inside the following sleeves, and a black dress over which fastened a wide-throated semi-coat, a garment rather like a chausable.

I asked Ruth if these outfits were intended to give the impression of a nun's habit; there is no other reference to a nun. She said no, and that no one else had ever got that impression.

I. C. Acquires Motion Picture To Encourage Committees To Recruit Industries

To encourage the organization of development committees in cities and towns in its territory to recruit new industries, the Illinois Central Railroad has acquired a new motion picture entitled "Gold Mine on Main Street."

The 16mm sound-color film has a running time of twenty-six minutes. The picture outlines the many factors which industry concluding taxes, manpower, government, natural resources, markets, schools and health and recreation facilities. The motion picture begins with introductory remarks by Wayne A. Johnston, president of the Illinois Central. The film concludes with an invitation by J. S. Frost, general industrial agent, to communities to call on the services of the railroad's long-established industrial department.

The motion picture is available to community groups interested in attracting new industry. It is also cleared for television use. Prints may be obtained on request to J. S. Grant, general industrial agent, Illinois Central Railroad, Chicago 5, Ill.

In the last five years the Illinois Central has assisted in locating a total of 440 new plants along its lines. Approximately 135 industries already located on the railroad expanded their plants in the same period. The Illinois Central played a leading role in the development of such great chemical centers as Woodstock, Tenn., Calverly City, Ky., and Baton Rouge, La. Industries located on the Illinois Central since World War II are producing approximately $45 million in revenue annually for the railroad.

Pay More Than Four Million In Federal Taxes

Kentucky customers of Southern Bell paid more than 4 1/4 million in federal excise taxes on telephone service in 1958. Telephone Manager Harold Wiley disclosed today. The average payment per customer amounted to nearly $13.00. Southern Bell customers over the South paid the federal excise tax collectors nearly $60 million. Telephone service is taxed at the rate of 10% for federal excise tax purposes. Telephone users in Fulton County alone paid over $38,500.

Telephone service is the only household utility on which a federal excise tax is levied, Mr. Wiley pointed out. The 56 telephone companies in Kentucky collect the tax from their customers and turn it over to U. S. tax collectors.

The excise tax on telephone service was intended many years ago to be a temporary tax but has never been removed, Mr. Wiley said. It was reduced to the 10% rate in 1954.

Common cents makes them the best!

These wheels roll under Illinois Central freight cars.

We have made them look like pennies because they move more for a cent than any other form of transportation. Without them, you would pay more for almost everything you buy.

Every year we make these wheels do better. We make them roll faster; we make them more dependable; we make them work harder.

Why do we do it? Because we believe this railroad must earn its way by doing a better job each year for those it serves... by never being content with the best... by always making the best better!

John Deere Day
Is Feb. 25th

Burnette Tractor Co., local John Deere Dealer, has announced
Feb. 25 as John Deere Day.

"We have lined up a full day of activity for all farmers and their families," Naylor Burnette said. "There will be equipment demonstrations, and of course a new film program. The wide variety of movie subjects includes features that are both entertaining and educational."

The new John Deere Grain Dryer will be introduced as part of the feature, "What's New for 1959". Guests will see step-by-step how this portable batch-type dryer works. All farmers will be interested in the film on John Deere multi-purpose sprayers, too.
These units can be used for distributing liquid fertilizer and for spraying crops or livestock.
Many other new and improved John Deere machines will be introduced, as well.

"This year's John Deere Day Program will include the greatest variety of entertainment we have ever shown," Mr. Burnette explained. "We have a great new Gordon Family film, a magic act, a movie visit to the John Deere Harvester plant, 'Oddities in Farming', two nationally famous vaudeville acts, and plenty of colorful numbers by the John Deere Singers and Dancers."

A show in itself, "Oddities in Farming" concentrates on the unusual in harvesting, and takes John Deere Day guests to three different parts of the country—Florida, California, and Wisconsin. One-of-a-kind harvesters and a product taken from the ocean make up an interesting film.

Another unusual outlook on harvesting will be shown with the full-color movie tour through the John Deere Combine plant.

TWO SENIORS—

of high school graduates with the highest demonstrated potential to benefit from college training.
These are the Certificate of Merit winners, the top performers in our national testing. We provide as many of them with direct assistance as our funds permit, and encourage a great variety of independent donors to do the same."

The selection of the 700 Finalists who will be awarded Merit Scholarships in 1959 is performed by the Merit Scholar Selection Committee, a panel of experts in academic selection, and by special judging teams convened by various donors of Merit Scholarships.

High school grades, leadership, citizenship and extra-curricular activities are considered, as well as test scores.

The Merit Scholarships are four-year awards, and carry stipends that range from $100 a year to $1,500 a year. Each stipend is individually determined on the basis of the need of the individual recipient. The amount is based upon family resources, summer earnings, and college costs, all of which vary with each winner. No Merit Scholar may accept other major scholarship assistance in addition to his Merit Scholarship stipend, a rule followed by most private scholarship donors. The aim is to spread the available scholarship funds to as many outstanding students as possible. Each student chooses his college and course of study, and admission to college is the responsibility of each student. Most Merit Scholarships also carry grants to the colleges attended by the students.

Over eighty corporations, foundations, and other organizations will be offering Merit Scholarships to the 1958-59 winners. Four of them—the Sears Foundation, International Business Machines Corporation, Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., and Lilly Endowment, Inc.—will together offer a total of 135 Merit Scholarships.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation was established in 1955 through grants of $20.5 million from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The current program is the fourth that has been conducted. Over 2,300 Merit Scholars are already in college. Nearly one million students have been tested in the competition to date.

The fifth program will begin on April 28, 1959 with the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, to be given in an estimated 15,000 high schools.

their faces.
Standing on the steps with the candidates I kept thinking of this completely new experience I was witnessing and I was wholly unaware of the fact that I had a red flower on my Spring bonnet and that the rain was pouring red instead of white.

A nice little old lady standing beside me handed me an umbrella and said, "Your raincoat is getting stained." Sure enough I looked on my shoulders and I had a two-tone raincoat . . . half red and half beige. Somehow it didn't matter when I looked over at Bert Combs and Wilson Wyatt and saw that they were standing there in their suits, without a rain-coat and without hats. Reporters who have followed the "meet-the-team" meetings said that all of the speakers made the finest speeches they have made and that's understandable. If people could stand in the rain to show their support of the candidates, we certainly could show them

the sincerity of our visit.

I did not appear with the team in Ashland. That meeting was held last Saturday and it would have kept me from coming home for the week-end. I promised Paul and the children that I would be at home every week-end to plan more meals, stock up more groceries and see that the household was running well. It is.

I could not have accepted this appointment if I did not feel that my duties at the radio station were in good hands and moreover that there certainly would be no inconvenience to Paul and the children. While the folks at the radio station know how much I appreciate their loyalty I'd like to say publicly that they are the finest folks in the world. And to our housekeeper, faithful, efficient Ozie Todd, there can be no way of saying what she means to me and to my family.

I'll be seeing you soon! I miss all of you!

open septic tanks in the area were creating a health hazard. Barry stated that soil in the area would not properly absorb water, and that if a central sewage system were not constructed to serve some streets, he would recommend that no more houses be built in the area until it were corrected.

In ruling in favor of annexation, Judge Stahr advised the audience that he had ruled on numerous annexation cases in the past, and that it was his observation that at no time had the move ever been regretted by the residents concerned.

McNeill, attorney for the protesting group, indicated that he may take his case to the Court of Appeals.
